A recent Business & Administration graduate seeking for a traineeship or entry-level position to start my career at. As a skillful Microsoft Office user, I can perform my tasks in an efficient and organized manner, combined with an analytical mind alongside a solid foundation about business dynamics makes me understand the problems that a company goes through in this IT world. Currently, I am pursuing an official certification as App/Web developer with Python and wishing for getting more in depth with Sql and bbdd. I am looking forward to joining a company interested in a long-term candidate with high potential and eagerness to learn.
